FACT SHEET

Seahorses are fish.

Spiny Seahorse, Pigmy Seahorse, Lined Seahorse, and Snouted Seahorse are just a few kinds of seahorse!

Diet:
Seahorses are carnivores. They eat tiny fish and shrimp.

Habitat:
Seahorses live in the ocean, in shallow tropical waters.

Seahorses can use their tails to anchor themselves to sea grasses and coral.

Seahorses can move their fins very quickly, but they are not fast swimmers.

Male seahorses have a pouch where they carry the eggs.

Seahorses have no teeth and no stomach.

Seahorses can camouflage.
