

AT HOME LEARNING

It is Week 3 of “At Home Learning”!

You will find the activities and suggestions for this week in Seesaw. This week we are celebrating Earth Day because it is such an important day!

We wanted to remind you that when your child is writing, please encourage them to use their own sounds so that they continue to learn how to work independently. Although it can be easier to tell them how to spell the word, it is better if they sound it out themselves. Please only correct their writing if they are missing major sounds in their words.

One of the most important activities for your child to continue to take part in during this time is reading. Have your child continue to work on their reading by reading out loud to you often and to reading to themselves daily.
