

AT HOME LEARNING

It is Week 7 of “At Home Learning”!

This is a short week because of Victoria Day and a Professional Learning Day. We will be enjoying the long weekend on Monday, May 18 with our families and engaging in Professional Learning opportunities with the school on Tuesday, May 19. We look forward to checking in with your child’s work on Wednesday!

Students should still be writing in their Journals on a weekly basis. This should be 20 minutes of uninterrupted, unassisted writing time. During this time students should be sounding out all of the words they want to use. When they are done writing, please encourage them to read their work over again to ensure that they remembered to use proper punctuation and capitalization. Please send us pictures of their journal writing as we would love to see it!

If your child is struggling with ideas of what to write about, please see the attached Writing Prompts to help get their creative juices flowing.
